

One of Guernsey's youngest Law Practices received high accolades from Legal 500 again this year.

Ashton Barnes Tee's Partners and lawyers have once again been recognised by the leading global research publication – Legal 500.

Legal 500 series has been in existence for over 20 years and provides the most comprehensive worldwide coverage currently available on legal services providers, in over 100 countries. The publications are used by corporate and private clients as well as in-house counsels and law firms themselves and the series is recognised as the most reliable source of data on individual law firm's capabilities.

Ashton Barnes Tee receives praise in the Introduction of the Guernsey section being described as "smaller [than some other firms] but giving a very personal service".

Partner Raymond Ashton is again acknowledged as a "leading individual" in Guernsey's Private Client and Taxation field where he offers "comprehensive advice based on considerable experience in trust and tax matters". It is noted that he gives "a very personal and high-quality service".

Within the area of Dispute Resolution, the firm's two other partners, Nick Barnes and Clare Tee are praised for specific high visibility litigation cases in which they had successfully acted for the respective plaintiffs. Nick was described as having "impressive knowledge of relevant legal precedent and statute".

The firm's Employment practice has gone from strength to strength with Advocate Tom Crawford's specialist expertise in this field once again being highlighted within the publication which comments that he delivers "excellent technical and legal advice and pragmatic guidance, comprehensively and skillfully supported by Clare Tee."

Clare Tee, Partner, Ashton Barnes Tee was delighted with the comments and praise received in the publication:

“Whilst we are a small firm, we are particularly proud of the level of personal service we offer clients – something recognised by Legal 500. We have a strong and growing client base in all areas of law in which we practise and the firm continues to develop at a significant rate. It is very satisfying to see our hard work acknowledged by this prestigious publication.”